

Annual School Improvement Plan (SIP) Update August 2009

2008 Accreditation Report findings for SIP:

- The church and school board continue to define the role of the school board in matters such as chain of command, the systematic written evaluation of the administrators, hiring and/or dismissal of faculty and staff, and policy review, providing a more formalized governance structure.
(In process)
- The board and administration hire a school accounting department staff member, providing necessary assistance with the organization, tracking and analysis of school finances.
(Completed – December 11, 2008)
- The board, administration and technology director develop and implement a comprehensive technology plan in order to maintain its current high level of technology.
(In process – Judy Rentz, chair)
- The administration provide a competitive compensation package for the faculty and staff to attract and retain quality personnel, ensuring excellence in education for students.
(In process – currently restricted by zero increase in tuition for 2009-2010 in light of economy)
- The administration and staff continue to develop a discipleship program that nurtures students in their Christian faith and assists them in establishing a biblical world view.
(Committee to be formed –Katie Nelson, chair)
- The administration continue to strengthen and build the financial aid program, providing Christian education for all students who otherwise could not attend CCS and/or participate in the academic support services program (WINGS – now ESS).
(Ongoing – CCS School Board and Development Office)
- The administration and academic support services staff implement a comprehensive academic plan for students with identified special needs and provide ongoing training for teachers.
(Ongoing – Academic Support Services)

CCS additions to the SIP based on needs identified by stakeholders:

- Continue to expand and refine the web-based MPO curricular project and ongoing data and benchmark analysis to ensure all learning gaps are identified.
(Ongoing)
- Pursue excellence in the area of overall customer service in the school.
